STATE NOMINEES CHARGE EVASION

Is Accused of Ignoring National Issues; The Other Problems
Vital to the State

REPEAT CHALLENGE

Each Alleges the Other Persistently
Ignores Questions Repeatedly
Asked at Public Meetings

Waterson, Oct. 13. — Nathan L. Miller, Republican candidate for governor, tonight at a large mass meeting here reiterated his challenge to Governor Smith to discuss national issues.

"The Democratic standard bearer in the state refuses to discuss the great national issues awaiting decision," said Judge Miller. "Evidently he does not think it vitally concerns the people of this state whether the question of sending American boys abroad to fight shall be taken out of our hands and committed to some council sitting at Geneva."

"He evidently does not think it greatly concerns the people of this state to contribute, as it is now estimated some $1,400,000,000 to support the wasteful and extravagant administration at Washington."

"His answer to the challenge to discuss these great issues is a request that we discuss minimum wage laws. With such grave problems confronting us the governor's campaign has agreed to a very small point when he wants to confine it to a discussion of minimum wage."

Mr. Miller said he is not against supporting the state departments.

"My program," he added, "is to co-operate with and to secure co-operation of legislative and state departments to give the people an economical administration and put a stop to the mounting costs of state government."

Says Miller Ignores State.

Elmhurst, Oct. 13. — Declaring that Nathan L. Miller, the Republican candidate for governor, is more interested in discussing national affairs than state affairs, Governor Smith in an address tonight said it was because there was not much for his opponent to say and not much of a position he can take without being out of harmony with the leaders of his party and the platform which they drew up for him to run on. The governor said it appeared strange that the primary day to the present time, Mr. Miller has never mentioned the Republican platform in his public utterances.

"I am meeting with very little success in my efforts to induce Judge Miller to discuss with me the problems which are pressing the state for solution at this time," continued the governor. "If I could get Judge Miller into his own state and away from Washington long enough for him to tell me how he stands on the question of direct primaries; how he stands on the question of public health; what he proposes to do to make more efficient the management and control of our state hospitals; what ideas he has on prison reform; what his position is in regard to the development of waterpower; how he feels about the home rule bill which his comrades in the legislature so brutally assassinated at the last session; what in his opinion constitutes real welfare measures; and which he favors; where he stands on the 'daylight saving law,' and whether or not he proposes to take the same straddle that his predecessor took."

"For every question that I have asked so far, I have been ready to give an answer and I stand ready now until the close of the campaign to discuss any phase of the state business, to discuss any issue which is pressing the state for solution."

COX WOULD PRINT LEAGUE COVENANT

Appeals For Funds Sufficient to Provide Copies of Pact Necessary to Meet Demand

Logansport, Ind., Oct. 13. — Governor Cox of Ohio, Democratic Presidential candidate, while touring Indiana today, issued a statement urging friends of the League of Nations to gather a fund for printing the covenant. His statement said in part: "I am making this appeal to the friends of peace in every community in America to establish at once a fund sufficient to print enough copies of the league covenant to take care of the demand for it. Everywhere we go, people are asking for it. They want the facts and they resent the methods adopted to deny them the facts. In many instances newspapers can be induced to print the document. Wherever possible this spirit of helpfulness should be taken advantage of."

Declaring that the league was a "pledge to the American soldiers and the mothers to make war impossible," Governor Cox emphasized league arguments and again charged Senator Harding, his Republican opponent, with vacillating. He also repeated Senator Harding was a candidate of the "senatorial oligarchy" and a "reactionary" who has fought every progressive movement for 20 years.

"How can you expect a government responsive to the people," the governor asked, "if you elect the candidate of the senatorial oligarchy?" Governor Cox asked audiences to act without partisan spirit and as Americans, reiterating that he had no quarrel with the rank and file of the Republicans, but only with the "senatorial oligarchy." He charged again there was a "conspiracy of silence" against the Democratic cause in the Republican press and the Republican official campaign book in failing to print the league covenant.

The governor said that there was a great "tidal wave of sentiment sweeping America" for the league and declaring that America was aroused and that many Republicans forsook Senator Harding when he disapproved of the league at Des Moines.

ATTACKS WHEAT GAMBLING RING

Senator Capper Declares Monte Carlo Innocent Compared to Vice of Chicago Pits

FARMERS ARE HURT

Losses Through Gambling in Futures in Last Two Months
Set at $909,600,000

Smith's Center, Kas., Oct. 13. — Senator Arthur Capper, speaking here tonight, declared that "once once more bread in the loaf at the old price is what the consumer is now offered for the $905,600,000 loss the Chicago wheat gamblers have caused American wheat raisers in the last two months by gambling in futures."

"Years ago," he continued, "the people demanded suspension of the Louisiana lottery, but today, under the cloak of business respectability, we are permitting the biggest trade gambling held in the world to be operated on the Chicago board of trade. By comparison, Europe's suicide club at Monte Carlo is as innocent as a church bazaar."

"Several years ago, I began work on a measure to abolish this injurious form of robbery and shall shoot this bill in on the first day of the next congress and will undertake to put this den of thieves out of business."

Since July 15, when trading in futures was resumed by the exchange, the senator declared, grain speculators have sold or oversold this year's crops five or six times. Only about one per cent of the trading in futures is a bona fide transaction for actual delivery, he asserted.

Because speculators are forcing down the price of wheat, Senator Capper asserted, the "farmer who sold his hogs and cattle at a heavy loss while meat still sells at war prices, is again made the goat, and the wheat raiser whose crop this year costs him more for wages and equipment than any other he ever produced, sees the fair price of crops cut virtually in two, with no real benefit to anybody except the brokerage firms who collect the commissions."

These losses, he said, amounting to nearly $1 a bushel, are being augmented and the speculators aided by the unrestricted influx of duty free Canadian wheat under the Underwood tariff and abetted by the difference in exchange value amounting to about 20 cents a bushel in favor of the importer.

IRISH FREEDOM FOREVER DENIED

An Independent Ireland, or Part of Ireland, Will Not Be Tolerated, It Is Declared

Belfast, Oct. 13. — Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, in a speech here today announced that he, Viscount French, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, and Sir Frederick Nevill Macready, commander of the military forces in Ireland, were in complete accord and did not contemplate resigning.

He declared that the government intended to enlarge its home rule bill in the most generous manner, especially in the direction of finances, thereby making a complete and final settlement of the Irish problem.

"The government will not be deceived in its course by promises of better measures or other measures," said the chief secretary. "It follows, therefore, that we won't tolerate an independent Ireland or part of Ireland being independent. We believe in the imperial and strategic unity of these islands. We believe that this unity is fundamental for the wellbeing of the whole empire."

"The real bar to peace in Ireland and the immediate passing of a bill that would enable Irishmen to govern their affairs is the campaign of deliberate and callous murder, arson and intimidation in certain parts of Ireland. No civilized government could tolerate that and I can assure all those who can read that it makes no difference what it costs in men, money or time, the government will go forward unflinchingly to treat criminals like the criminals they are. We are breaking the tariff. In certain counties the boycott has ceased and it will cease everywhere."

"The government of Ireland bill dealt with a great reality, namely, that Ireland historically and in many other ways divided into two main parts. This is to be regretted, but it is still a fact. This is the first government that has faced that fact."

"I am not one of those who believe that the setting up of two parliaments in Ireland carries with it any of those disabilities and awful consequences that people who know nothing about home rule are constantly prophesying."

HARDING PLEDGE IS GIVEN SOUTH

Republican Success Means Same
Protection to All American Production, Assures Nominee

RAPS WILSON RULE

President's Attitude Toward the League of Nations Legislation Is Condemned by Senator

Chattanooga, Tenn., Oct. 13. — To the voters of the Democratic south, Senator Harding tonight addressed an appeal for earnest consideration of Republican principles and gave a promise that Republican success in the election would mean the same policy of a helpful protection to all American production, north or south.

In a speech at the auditorium here, the Republican Presidential nominee suggested "diversified politics" as the thing required to remove the last trace of sectional misunderstanding and said that his party had no policy for one section that it did not preach for all sections alike.

The Democratic party he attacked for its conduct of affairs at home and abroad. President Wilson, he said, repeatedly had dictated to congress even at the expense of violating pledges of his own party platform and finally had attempted to force acceptance of the League of Nations covenant by depriving the senate of its constitutional powers.

Arriving here early in the forenoon, the candidate spent virtually the whole day in an automobile tour of the section about Chattanooga, made historic by the Civil war battles. An ambiguity in the federal constitution, he said in his speech, had been responsible for the war and voiced the hope that no similar catastrophe would be courted by accepting a league covenant containing a "score of ambiguities."

"Looking back now in the concord of union," he said, "we note no difference in patriotic love of country, north or south; rather a misunderstanding as to the meaning of it. It little matters now about grievances, about early differences, about the embittered disappointments, the supreme fact is that we have rebuilt, that we are united."

"We are not wholly of one mind in our party divisions, but it will be a grand day for America when our partisan differences are buried in the concord of new understandings. If Republican policies are good for the north, they deserve the earnest consideration of the south."

STATE REFUSED BOND PURCHASE

Judson Tells of Block Worth
$750,000 Still Held by Broker Despite Depreciation

New York, Oct. 13. — Newspaper publisher John D. Judson today announced that the state had refused to purchase a block of bonds worth $750,000 still held by a broker despite depreciation.

Judson, who is credited with profits exceeding $300,000 in the sale of securities to the state, said the bonds he had expected to sell were still being carried by the National Savings company without security or margin although the market has dropped to points since he bought them.

The state comptroller's office agreed when they took the $1,100,000 block last May to receive the $750,000 block when funds were available, Judson said. After reading an article in a Brooklyn newspaper regarding the bond transactions of the state, Judson said he visited Mr. Travis and was told, he testified, that the bonds would not be taken while an investigation instituted by a Republican committee of Kings county was in progress.

Assistant District Attorney Pecora in cross-examination asked Judson if certain officials whose names have been mentioned in the inquiry shared in any part of the profit.

Judson answered in the negative.

Questioned concerning the distribution of large sums of money which it is alleged were profits realized in transactions for the comptroller's office, Mr. Judson in some instances testified he could not recall in what manner he had expended his earnings. He said the last $175,000 he earned was used for the most part in the building of a speed boat which was entered in the recent Cowes regatta in England.

Comptroller Travis will be examined tomorrow.

EXPLORE MARINE CORPS OUTRAGE

Indiscriminate Killing of Haitian
Natives Basis of Investigation
More Than Year Ago

BARNETT REPORTS

Former Corps Commandant Includes Record of Summary Proceedings in Official Account

Washington, Oct. 13. — Disclosure that a summary investigation of alleged indiscriminate killing of Haitian natives by United States Marines was ordered more than a year ago by Major General Barnett, the commandant of the marine corps, was made today in publication of a report by General Barnett on operations in Haiti during American occupation.

"Evidence at the trial of two marine privates for the killing of natives shocked me beyond expression," General Barnett said in a letter of September 37 to Colonel John H. Russell, commanding in Haiti, ordering an immediate investigation with the approval of Secretary Daniels. It was at once carried out by Colonel Russell, who submitted a report to the navy department, March 20, 1920, but, General Barnett said, the report had not been turned over to Marine corps headquarters up to last June, when he was succeeded as commandant of the corps by Major General John A. Lejeune.

General Barnett's report contains no indication of the result of the investigation for this reason, as it covers operations in Haiti only up to the time he was relieved as commandant.

Secretary Daniels, it was shown, ordered General Barnett on September 13 last to submit a special report on conditions causing the investigation. This report was incorporated in the general operations report made public today. General Barnett received the order while on leave of absence shortly after publication of statements by Senator Harding, Republican presidential nominee, criticizing the naval administration in Haiti.

In Secretary Daniels' absence from Washington tonight the report of Colonel Russell on his investigation was not available. In his letter to Colonel Russell on his investigation, General Barnett declared that testimony at the trials of the two marine privates as well as arguments presented by counsel for the defense, Lieutenant F. L. Spear "showed me that practically indiscriminate killing of natives has gone on for some time."

"Judging by the knowledge of the cases brought before me," the general declared, "I think that the marine corps has been sadly lacking in right and justice and I look to you to see that this is corrected and corrected at once."

"I was shocked beyond expression to hear of such things and to know that duty could be so badly performed by marines of any class."

"I want instructions sent to every officer and commandant and non-commissioned officers, both marine and gendarmes (Haitian constabulary) that conditions as shown by the evidence in the trial of the private above referred to must be corrected and that such action cannot be tolerated for a moment."

FIRST WOMAN JURY IN JERSEY SEATED

Reversal of a Judgment Against Another of Their Sex Results
From Their Deliberations

Orange, N. J., Oct. 13. — New Jersey's first jury of women reversed a judgment against another of their sex in a court trial here today.

The judge apparently approved the verdict, though remaining silent, but the sergeant at arms, thrown into a fractious mood by incessant activities by camera men during the trial, said he did not think another woman's jury would be called here. "It caused too much trouble," he complained.

Baby's underwear and feminine frocks and stockings were involved in the trial, which centered on a question of ownership of stock in a store. Antonio Pascarella claimed he was the owner, while the McCall company had obtained judgment against his wife as owner, for not paying a bill. The jury today decided Pascarella was the owner.

The term "Ladies of the Jury" found its way into the stenographic records for the first time. Another innovation in court action came when the judge released the jury for lunch.

"Return promptly at 2 o'clock," he said, "and please do not discuss the case with any of your friends or among yourselves."

DEBATE IS SOUGHT ON LEAGUE ISSUES

Cox Aide Issues Formal Challenge to Republican Nominee to Meet His Opponent

New York, Oct. 13. — On behalf of Governor Cox, Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi today issued a formal challenge to Senator Harding to meet the Democratic Presidential candidate in joint debate on the subject of the League of Nations.

Acting for the Speakers' bureau of the Democratic National committee, of which he is chairman, Senator Harrison wired Senator Harry E. New, who occupies a similar position in the Republican organization, offering to cancel any speaking engagement herebefore made for Governor Cox in order to bring the two candidates together.

Continuing, he included any and all Republican speeches in a blanket challenge to meet other Democratic speakers, who he said, would be willing to use a portion of their meetings from now until election day to discuss Senator Harding's position on the league with anyone who cared to debate the point.

CLUB MEMBERS ROBBED

Guests of Exclusive Sleepy Hollow Society Lose Their Jewelry While They Sleep

Ossining, Oct. 13. — Jewelry said to be valued at more than $100,000 was stolen early today from guests at the Sleepy Hollow Country club, one of the most exclusive organizations in the country.

After a dance at the clubhouse last night, many of the guests remained overnight, 50 rooms being occupied. The robbery was discovered when Mrs. C. C. Chapman, one of the guests, was awakened this morning by a noise. She found no one in the room, but her jewelry, which were placed on top of the dresser, were missing. They included a pearl necklace valued at $60,000, a wrist watch with diamonds set clasp and other articles of lesser value.

C. C. Danforth, a stock broker, is said to have lost jewelry valued at $5,000.

QUIZ CANDIDATES ON VOLSTEAD LAW

Attitude of Harding and Cox on Modification of Prohibition
Enforcement Act Sought

Washington, Oct. 13. — The Anti-Saloon league announced tonight that it had submitted identical questions to Senator Harding and Governor Cox to develop their attitude regarding modification of the Volstead prohibition enforcement act.

The messages embodying the questions were sent last Thursday from National headquarters by Henry Beach Carre, secretary of the league's special committee investigating the candidate's record on the league question and read: "Will you, if elected, favor or oppose modification of the Volstead act, to permit the manufacture or sale of beer or wine, or increase the alcoholic contents, thus rendering enforcement of the eighteenth amendment more difficult? Immediate reply requested."

Senator Harding's reply dated last Monday said:

"My recorded vote for the submission of the eighteenth amendment and law to enforce it answers your telegram. I stand by that record made in the public service."

While no reply has been received from Governor Cox, the announcement said his secretary would endeavor to present the inquiry to the Democratic candidate. The league also made public a review of the public utterances of the two candidates and their official acts regarding the liquor question. The committee said it had sent them to the candidates requesting corrections or comment, but no reply has been received from either candidate.

DENIES CONTROL OF LABOR VOTES

Samuel Gompers Puts to Rest Rumors
He Could Swing Vote of His Constituency

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 13. — In an address delivered here today before the convention of the International Brotherhood of Bookbinders, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, denied reports that he could deliver the labor vote to the Democratic party and said that no person ever heard such an utterance coming from him.

Mr. Gompers said that he owed allegiance to no political party, that he was a partisan to principles and labor. "We are not Bolsheviks," continued Mr. Gompers, "nor have we our hands on the throat of our government. We purpose to exercise our rights solely as American citizens."

"I control only one vote and that vote is my own. I can only align myself against the man who has aligned himself with the reactionary interests and against the interest of the American people. I am to urge all I can get to cast their vote for Harding and I judge for Cox and Roosevelt."

The latest reprieves granted were to Arthur Hanzel, convicted of wife slaying, and Nicholas Viana, sentenced for the murder of a saloon keeper. The two to face the executioner tomorrow are John Henry Dees, negro, convicted of wife murder, and Frank Campione, found guilty of killing a saloon keeper.

Viana and Hanzel will be hanged November 12, unless further action is taken by Governor Lowden.

MAY AVOID COAL SHORTAGE

Care on Part of Consumers May Prevent Embarrassing Bituminous Situation

New York, Oct. 13. — There will be no serious bituminous coal shortage in any part of the country this winter, provided ordinary care is exercised by consumers, it was predicted here today at a conference of the National Coal association, which comprises two-thirds of the bituminous coal producers of the United States.

The coal operators, however, declared that in order to keep the market supplied, steady work at the mines and sufficient supply of railroad cars also would be required.

At this time, it was stated, bituminous operators were getting only about 25 per cent to 30 per cent of the open orders needed.

REPUBLICAN HOUSE AS VITAL AS REPUBLICAN PRESIDENT

New York, Oct. 13. — In a letter received here today by Mrs. Arthur Lamm, Republican campaign worker, Senator Harding declared that it was "just as important to elect a Republican house and senate as to elect a Republican chief executive."

"We cannot carry our Republican policies or make good on our Republican promises unless we have a congress to give official expression in legislation," Senator Harding wrote.

ROCHESTER HARDING'S LIMIT

Excellent Condition of Campaign in State Is Reason for Abandoning Eastern Swing

New York, Oct. 13. — Senator Harding will come no farther east than Rochester, during the National campaign. This was announced formally by Republican headquarters here today.

The New York state engagements which it was announced, Senator Harding will fulfill, include an afternoon address in Rochester on October 14 and an evening meeting in Buffalo on the same day.

The candidate's first plan to come here for an address at Madison Square Garden, New York city, was abandoned, according to today's announcement, because the campaign being in such excellent condition, it is not deemed necessary for Senator Harding to fill the engagement.

ORIOLES NEED ONLY ONE GAME

Cleveland, O., Oct. 13. — Cleveland tonight paid tribute to its world champion baseball team in a public demonstration in Wade park attended by approximately 50,000 people. So great was the enthusiasm of the baseball crazy mob that it finally became uncontrollable and broke through ropes marking off the stage where the city officials and Cleveland American league baseball players sat, smashed chairs, pushed several persons into a small lake and vocally and physically expressed its joy over the winners of the world's series.

FATHER BURIES HIS TWO BABIES ALIVE

Despondency Over Financial Matters and Crop Failures Believed Responsible for Crime

Lansing, Mich., Oct. 13. — Earl Roop, a farmer, was arraigned yesterday on a charge of murdering his daughters, Dorothy and Bernice, aged three and two, respectively, whom he buried alive on his farm 10 miles from here, Monday, according to his reported confession to Sheriff Sledge. Preliminary hearings were set for tomorrow after Roop had stood mute and a plea of not guilty had been entered by the court.

Despondency over financial matters and the failure of his crops, according to the sheriff, was given as the reason for his alleged act. He was quoted as saying that he had been pondering the idea of taking the lives of his babies for nearly a year. The mother of the girls is in a critical condition at her home where six days ago she gave birth to a son. She has not been told of the fate of her other babies.

FREIGHT RATES TEND DOWNWARD

Reports from Pittsburgh and Other Steel Centers Confirm Recently Reported Price Concessions

New York, Oct. 12. — Railroad and industrial stock moved in opposite directions again today, transportation, especially the speculative variety, denoting further accumulations, while industrials and associated specialties were variable or hesitant. There were a few striking exceptions as in the case of Lackawanna Steel and several equipments and oils, the latter responding to higher prices for the refined product.

Coppers yielded again on reports that the refined metal is being offered for immediate delivery at 16 1/2, and advices from Pittsburgh and other steel centers confirmed recent advices of concessions for fabricated iron and steel.

In shipping circles freight rates also were said to be in process of downward revision. Some of the industrial bonds, including United States steel five were heavy, but other domestic issues, including Liberty, were steady to firm.

Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

BAPTISTA ENDS LISBON GAMING

Goddess of Chance Is Put to Rout by the New Premier of Portugal.

CLEAN-UP WAS SADLY NEEDED

Not a Street in the Capital Was Without Its Gambling House, Many Being Conducted as "Clubs" in Palaces.

Lisbon, Portugal.—Gambling, which flourished here to an extraordinary degree after the armistice, has suffered a severe check at the hands of the new government headed by Premier Baptista. Up to two months ago the gambling houses remained undisturbed, but since Baptista's government took office the law has been rigorously enforced and today there are few visible signs of the prosperity the gamblers have enjoyed for a year.

The gambling mania began to manifest itself as soon as the war ended. Magnificent clubs in which big fortunes must have been spent suddenly sprang up like mushrooms; gilded, glittering clubs, splendidly furnished, such as Lisbon never dreamed of possessing.

Palaces as Gambling dens.

Palaces belonging to the old aristocracy were rented at incredible prices and transformed into "The Majestic," "The Palace Club," "Maxima," "Palais Royal" and dozens of others on the same scale, with restaurants, ballrooms and gambling rooms; everything being perfectly planned and carried out on the most modern and expensive lines.

Hundreds of smaller imitations followed, until it may with truth be said that not a street in Lisbon was without two or three gambling houses. Thus a great change came over the humdrum social life of Lisbon, where nothing in the way of amusement ever happens beyond theaters and moving picture shows.

The club restaurants' excellent cuisine attracted fashionable crowds, constant relays of Americans and English tourists spent their money lavishly and smartly dressed women coming nobody knows from where were a doubtful source of attraction in the streets by day and at the clubs by night.

This condition existed for well over a year. Then well-known firms were robbed by trusted employees.

An officer, who wore the cross of war, shot himself after losing large sums of money which were not his. Young men belonging to the best families fell into disgrace.

Press Starts Campaign.

A campaign was then begun by part of the Portuguese press, headed by the Secuip and the Situncao. Columns of letters from parents and well-known Lisbonites were printed daily, disclosing demoralizing facts and exhorting the government to close the clubs.

The governments, however, rapidly succeeding each other, had other things to attend to. And the gambling continued; but when the Baptista government came into office strenuous measures were taken.

The magnificent clubs, the glittering restaurants, the smart foreign women all disappeared as suddenly as they had burst upon the scene a year ago.

For a week carts and camions conveying roulette tables and other gambling paraphernalia to the police stations formed the chief attraction of the Lisbon streets.

Frequent attempts have since been made to reopen resorts. Recently the Palais Royal club was re-established, ostensibly as a restaurant. Three days later it was closed by the police, after a raid.

NEW JAP CULT IS RADICAL

"Omoto Kyo," Mysterious Religion, Proves to Be an Extreme Form of Socialism.

Tokyo.—"Omoto Kyo," the new mysterious religion of Japan, is merely an extreme form of socialism aimed at the destruction of the existing social order, according to Kato, a merchant who made a secret pilgrimage to Ayuda, the village headquarters of the sect.

The leading adherents of the cult, Kato reported, were retired and discontented military men. He said the tomb of the sect's founder bore a striking resemblance to the imperial mausoleum at Meiji.

Kato said he spent 60 days among the Omoto-Kyos, and made his escape with difficulty.

Asbestos.

The earliest use of asbestos was for spinning and weaving, to make incombustible thread and yarn, rope and cloth, and this has continued to be the most important use of asbestos ever since the days of the Greeks and Romans. Only the best grades can be used for this purpose, according to J. S. Diller of the United States geological survey, department of the interior.

Thread can now be spun so fine that it will run about 32,000 feet to the pound.

Ohio Is Toy Balloon State.

Cleveland, Ohio.—Ohio leads the country in the making of toy balloons, making from about 50 to 75 per cent of the output of the United States, according to Ohio manufacturers. Close to 1,500,000 are made daily. It is reported. Many are shipped abroad.

Stocking His Cellar.

Dryden.—Are you trying to corner the thermometer market? I see you've bought 100 gross of them.

Wetmore.—Sh! They're spirit thermometers. Every one is filled with 9 per cent alcohol.

Minneapolis Sheriff Gets a Little Bear by Mail

The first attempt to send part of a zoo to Minneapolis by mail was successful when Sheriff Earle Brown became host to a little brown bear. The bear came in with the morning mail, the gift of friends in Wisconsin, and almost disrupted the affairs of the sheriff's office, while deputies bought out the court house stock of peanuts, popcorn and candy and fed the surprise package.

Even sheriffs and deputies in their own stronghold have a wholesome respect for live wild bears, and although 40 pounds of cub sat up and begged politely to be taken out to see the sights, the sheriff said he preferred to look at him through the wire mesh that covered one side of the box.

"Guess I'll take him out to the farm, and when he gets used to me I'll let him out," said the sheriff, judiciously.

TREASURE HUNT VAIN

Searchers for Buried Silver Are Sure to Fail.

So Says Galveston Expert of Efforts to Find Wrecked Gullion Ship.

Galveston, Tex.—Searchers after buried silver on the mainland opposite Pete Island, 18 miles southeast of Corpus Christi, Tex., probably are doomed to disappointment, in the opinion of Dr. J. O. Dyer, a local writer on historical and scientific subjects.

The rush of treasure seekers began with the discovery recently of 25 skeletons, popularly believed by many to be those of members of the crew of a Spanish treasure ship which foundered off the Texas coast early in the eighteenth century. No record is available of any such wreck.

The "life" of a skeleton buried in the sands of the beaches of the coastal country, Dr. Dyer points out, is not over 40 years.

He also says treasure ships from Mexico to Spain were discontinued after 1820, partly because of the activities of Jean Lafitte's fleet of buccaneers.

Even before that time the Spaniards tried to avoid excessive losses from storms and Lafitte's fleet of buccaneering vessels and 50 Spaniards transported less than 20 tons of silver bullion to the vessel.

Then, the current rate in Mexico was approximately $10 a troy pound. The most valuable of all Lafitte's prizes, the Sevilla, carried only $150,000 in specie.

Lafitte's captured treasure, according to the records extant, was buried in three caches. Two of these were located on Galveston island and the third on a small island to the east, which was completely washed away during a storm in 1829.

There have been many reports of the discovery of this coast of caches of coin or chests from trading ships containing from $3,000 to $15,000.

THEIR JUICY MEATS GONE

Londoners Find That the Cooking in Their Restaurants Has Degenerated Sadly.

London.—A reporter for a London newspaper who considers himself an epicure has just finished an extensive study of London restaurants and reached the conclusion that English restaurant cooking has degenerated to an extent almost unbelievable.

He complained that he could not find a good, old-fashioned English steak; that a juicy mutton chop with a piece of kidney attached was difficult to obtain; that the pastry of the meat pies the Englishman loves so well no longer is light and fluffy, and that the omnipresent jellies lacked their old time taste.

The famous Soho eating places, too, have lost much of their old-time charm. Soho, says one writer, "is that district famous for its league of snobs for its children—sneered, snarling, bantling—its lower, snarled, madonnas and its little 'nouveaux'." It is the Latin quarter of London.

Soho is reaping a harvest, because so many people are "eating out," owing to the high cost of maintaining a kitchen, but it is doing it at the cost of losing the atmosphere the real habitues enjoyed.

And many of the "regulars" have had to give up their favorite places, owing to increase in prices and because they disliked to dine near people who do not appreciate perfectly prepared food and who never seem to assimilate the atmosphere of these quaint places.

Fossils.

Though historical geology and the study of ancient life depend chiefly on fossils, the term has been very vaguely and loosely applied. As a precise definition, a writer in Science proposes: "A fossil is an object which indicates former existence of an organism which has been buried and preserved by geological causes, previous to historic time." The mastodon preserved in the arctic ice is a fossil, a leaf buried in the gutter is not; and a truly petrified organism may not be a fossil.

Chuckles in Court.

In a Ramsey valley police court it turned out that a defendant shot a pigeon, the property of a Mr. Fowler, and evidence was given by Mr. Burd.

Queer, but True.

Do right a thousand times and you will never hear of it. Do wrong once, and you will hear of it a thousand times.—Unidentified.

L. Brown of this village, became the bride of Andrew Ferris Davis, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Ferris E. Davis, also of Delhi. Immediately preceding the service, which was performed by the bride's pastor, Rev. George M. Maholy of the Second Presbyterian church, "I Love You Truly" was beautifully sung by Miss Beatrice Stevens, and during the ceremony, which took place under an arch of trailing pine, hydrangeas and autumn leaves, Wagner's wedding march from "Lohengrin" was played by Miss Katherine McIntosh.

The bride was attended by the groom's sister, Miss Edie Davis, and the best man was Raymond Goodenough. The bride's dress was of white georgette over satin, with tulle fastened with a wreath of rose buds, and she carried a shower bouquet of white bride's roses. KILLS ROBBER IN HALLWAY Diamond Broker Carrying Gems Valued at $2,000. Attacked by Three and Routs All.
New York, Oct. 12.—In a fight in a narrow 29th street hallway here last night a man, said by the police to be Paul Boretano, one of a party of three who held up William Stern, diamond broker, was shot to death.
The broker, who carried gems valued at $2,000 and $100 in cash, was arrested, charged with the shooting, as he pursued other members of the party. Pasquale Miller, 22, was taken in custody later as a material witness.
Stern told the police three men dragged him into the hallway, brandished weapons in his face and searched his clothing. When one of them turned his head, he said, he drew his revolver and shot. The others then ran.
The police say Boretano six years ago robbed and shot the cashier of the East River Savings bank on the Bowery. He served a year and 11 months in prison police records show.

For Itching Eczema, Old Sores and Piles

"I guarantee my ointment," says Peterson of Buffalo, "to cure eczema, to stop the itching at once and any relapsing disease will disappear before your money is lost. PETERSON'S OINTMENT doesn't do every thing I say it will do."

William A. Carter of Franklin, N. Y., is a expert wise man. He writes: "I feel PETERSON'S OINTMENT on a little bit suffering terribly from eczema. It did the work."

Then there is Alex. Lottel, a brave German of Buffalo, who is glad to write as follows: "I had an old sore on my leg for many years. The best doctors failed. PETERSON'S OINTMENT entirely healed the sore quickly. And from over 15 years comes a letter from A. Hocke, stating: 'The best thing I ever hit for itching piles is PETERSON'S OINTMENT.' BY THE HIGHWAY OF THIEF.

There is only one safe and sure road by which competence and security for old age can be secured, and that is the highway of thrift. There are other roads more agreeable, others which along the way and from day to day offer an evanescent sort of pleasure which cannot be found on the road to thrift, but there is no other which brings one safely, securely and pleasantly to journey's end.

There are many tributary roads which lead to the great highway; one of these is the form of economy which so much and so wisely has been urged by the government in its Savings and Thrift stamps campaign; and another, wherever it is available, is by the way of the Building and Loan association. There is such an association in Oneonta, and the city is justly proud of the fact that the whole 30 or more years of its existence have been years of continued prosperity, under one management. There are in the city probably thousands, who will admit that they learned their first lessons in economy and the cumulative value of small savings through the local institution; certainly hundreds whose houses stand free from debt, who save for the association might still have been renters, with less abiding interest in their community.

A recent article by A. W. McEwan, secretary of the State League of Building and Loan associations, whom many will recall as a very pleasant visitor in Oneonta at the time when the association held its meeting two years ago in this city, bears with special emphasis on some of these facts as applied in a general way to other communities and to states. In New Jersey, he states, there are 250 associations with 225,000 members, and in one city of the state at least one person out of every four is enrolled in such an organization. Twenty-five per cent of the members are paying for their homes and seventy-five per cent are saving money systematically. Most of these men and women would not save anything were it not for the association. In connection with the housing problems, now so critical, it is suggested, and doubtless properly, that Governor Smith and other officials could not render a better public service than by calling attention to the opportunities which the Building and Loan associations hold out to the home builder.

To go back to the original proposition: Thrift is the highway, no always easy, but always safe, at the end of which lie comfort and contentment and competence for old age. There is no better and no earlier time to take to that road than the present, whether by the thrift-stamp route, or by savings banks, or Building and Loan associations. The main thing is to save, and some plan which puts one's savings at work for him at the earliest possible moment, the way which, according to one's location, and surrounding conditions, should be taken.

BAPTIST ASSOCIATION.

Large Attendance at Sessions Held at Mt. Upton Yesterday.

The basket meeting of the Woman's Missionary societies of the Franklin association, which was held in Mt. Upton yesterday, was well attended, and was one of the best in the history of the association. The reports from the societies were interesting and showed an excellent degree of activity. The session, which was held in the morning, was given up mostly to business. In the afternoon session two splendid addresses were given, one by Rev. Mr. Clough and the other by Mrs. Ransier of Manlius. Rev. Mr. Clough, pastor of the entertaining church, gave some impressions of the Buffalo meeting of the Northern Baptist convention, which was held last June. Mrs. Ransier, a missionary among the Hopi Indians of Arizona, gave a very interesting and inspiring address, bringing vividly before the minds of the hearers the degraded conditions of these Indians and the gratifying results of the missionary work among them.

The election of officers resulted in the selection of the following ladies to serve for the coming year: President, Mrs. N. S. Burd of this city; vice president, Mrs. G. D. Merry of Sidney Center; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. R. E. Biderbeck of West Oneonta. It was decided that the next meeting could be held in Delhi next year.

River Street Night School.
Those who desire to avail themselves of the opportunity offered by the River Street Night school will bear in mind that the second session will be held this evening. There was but small attendance on Tuesday night, doubtless owing to the fact that Tuesday being Columbus day was a holiday quite commonly observed by the Italians of the city. Tonight they will have opportunity to enter, and it is believed that more will do so. In this connection the attention of employees of miners between the ages of 16 and 19 years, who cannot read and write English, is called to the fact that such minors are required by law to attend these night schools. The matter should be given attention, as the authorities have no alternative save to enforce the law.

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS

Boosting the Hen.
Our national bird, says the silver City (N. M.) Enterprise, should be the hen. She is the world's greatest example of patient industry. She converts worthless by-products, like bugs and worms, into high grade food. She incloses her wares in neat sanitary packages and advertises her accomplishments. Kut-kut-ba-daw-kut.

Enlarging Cider Factory.
According to the Schoharie Republican, Louis Schwarz, of the Ballston Refrigerating company, apple buyers, has made a business arrangement with C. L. L'Amoureux by which the facilities of the L'Amoureux cider and vinegar mill at Schoharie will be increased and a bigger market provided for the big apple crop, which is going begging. Mr. Schwarz is erecting two big storage tanks on the land of his company and additional machinery is being added to the mill.

Like a Thousand of Brick.
What is believed to be the first break in the price of building materials is a drop of $5 a thousand in brick. Henry Ford's drop in the price of his cars was followed by announcement of a substantial decrease made by another manufacturer of automobiles. It is hoped that the first cut in the cost of building materials will be followed by other drops. — [Exchange.]

To Keep Missouri Boys on the Farm.
The farmer's son who has had to cut hickory or rock maple firewood will hail the sunflower as a public benefactor. An acre of sunflowers will produce three cords of stalks so dry and tender that anybody can chop them—even girls. — [Stater News.]

Sad News for October Brides.
The sad news comes to women planning to be married in October that they will lose their votes if they change their names between the date of registration and the date of election. However, they may regard their marriage as more important than their vote. Those who are determined to vote have the privilege of hastening the date of marriage so that it will come before registration day, or of postponing the happy event until after election. — [Utica Press.]

Trite But True Warning.
Trite but true is the warning, "If you do not register you cannot vote," and those who, for any reason except physical incapacity or unavoidable absence from home, fail to register will not be entitled to criticize the government under which they will live when control of the nation and the state passes to the party and candidates which are successful at the polls on November 2. — [New York Tribune.]

It Makes No Difference.
The government forecasts a bigger sugar crop than ever, but the prediction is merely of academic interest to the consumer, who knows what is being done to him this fall after an increased production of more than fifty million tons of coal over the amount mined last year. — [Philadelphia Inquirer.]

Conflicting Emotions in Kansas.
A man who lives in the country is unhappy. He has the hay fever badly and he has a lot of corn. Physically he longs for an early frost and financially he hopes there will be no frost for a couple of months. — [Horton Headlight-Commercial.]

Some Chicken Pie Supper.
Numerous Oneontans motored to Milford Center early last evening, as well as other residents of adjoining towns, all attracted by the announcement that the Ladies' Aid society of the Baptist church there would serve one of their famous chicken pie suppers, and were rewarded not only by a cordial welcome, but by a supper that was a gastronomic triumph. Class A. Those who patronized the supper secured a bargain, while the good people who provided it made liberal donations to the church. The proceeds were $135, which is considered very satisfactory considering that nothing but the supper was offered.

STRONG TEAM ENGAGED

TO MEET BABE RUTH'S AGGRESSION AT NEAUBA PARK ON FRIDAY.

Paddy Martin of Philadelphia, American League Team, Of Whom Ruth Has Never Got a Homer Will Tackle — E-J Players Secured.

Manager Weidman has returned from Binghamton and last night made public the team which will contend against the All Star American League team which Babe Ruth, the famous home run hitter, and Carl Mays, the twirler, will bring here for a game on Friday afternoon at Neahwa park.

Two good twirlers have been secured, Paddy Martin, of the Philadelphia Americans, who pitched three games against Babe Ruth's team during the regular season and off whom Babe has never secured a homer. In the three games Ruth got exactly three hits. Martin is considered good and able to hold the visitors. Fisher of the Endicott-Johnson team will do the receiving and there are few better in the business. As relief pitcher in case one is needed Donohue of the E-J team will be on the bench.

The other players of the team will be as follows: Sullivan, rf. Pope, 2b, Konnick (Reading Internationals) 1b, Murphy, lf, Lee, Hanley, ss, Lof, Hanley, 3b, James Spaw, cf. Most of these players will be recognized as members of the strong E-J team which defeated practically all comers this season.

To umpire the game Manager Weidman has secured Mulkey, the mute, who has played here at various times for a score of years and was here with the E-J team this summer. He is known to be a good sport and a good umpire. Brodie will officiate on the bases.

The sale of reserved seats commenced with a rush yesterday and those reserved for city patrons are nearly gone. Those reserved for non-residents will be held to give residents of this section an opportunity to secure them. Indications are that they too will be gone before Friday comes.

To avoid the crowd at the ticket office at the grounds at the time of the game single admission tickets at $1.10 will be placed on sale this morning at 9 o'clock at the City Drug store and the cafe of E. D. House on Broad street.

With favorable weather Neahwa park grounds will see the largest crowd ever gathered there, according to all indications. Cars will not be permitted to enter the enclosure and every effort will be made to permit all who enter to get a good view of the game. The game will be called at 3:30 sharp.

NEW YORK FARMS DECREASE

Reduction of 22,537 Largest Ever Recorded in Any State for Ten-Year Period — New England's Percentage Greater Ithaca, Oct. 13. — A recent preliminary announcement of the United States Census bureau reports only 193,660 farms in this state, according to a statement made at the New York state college of agriculture here today. This substantially agrees with the census taken by the state food commission in 1917 and 1918. As there were 215,690 farms here ten years ago, the decrease during the last decade has been 22,537 farms. This is the largest total decrease that has ever taken place in any single state in the union during a ten-year period.

New York does not, however, stand alone in having a decline in the number of farms. In New England the rate of decrease during the last ten years has been even higher, averaging 17 per cent; in New Jersey the rate has been 14 per cent; in Pennsylvania nearly 8 per cent. There has also been a small decrease in the number of farms in the corn-belt states.

Some Farms Combine.

In all cases a part of the decrease has been due to the combining of farms, but in the north-eastern states a decrease in the number of farms has always been accompanied by a decrease in the area of cultivated land. The decrease in the number of farms in the central and north-eastern states was only a little more than offset by the increase in the South Atlantic states and in the western third of the country.

During the last decade, while the population of our country increased about 15 per cent, the number of farms increased only 1 1/2 per cent. The change from former conditions is shown by the fact that during the decade ending in 1910 the number of farms increased 10.9 per cent, and during the preceding half century the average increase each ten years was 22 per cent.

What is Home Without Music

[National Crop Improvement Service.]

"EDISON built better than he knew when he invented the phonograph. At first it was little more than a clever toy. But as the phonograph has been perfected from a shrill, scratchy, freaky machine into a mellow-voiced musical instrument, it has carried joy and cheer into millions of families," says Mr. Frank Vasches, V. P. American Steel & Wire Co. "There is not such a great difference in construction of phonographs except that the wood is more carefully selected and the tone chambers and sound boxes more perfectly made as they grow more expensive and the merit of different price machines depends largely upon the steel spring or series of springs which supply the motive power of great delicacy and flexibility."

"The improvement of musical taste has become more apparent. When the instrument is first purchased, the records selected are generally of the most trivial nature, the popular rags of the day, but the operator soon tires of that kind of music and begins to build his permanent library of the world's masterpieces."

"In this way a good musical education is being attained in many households where there used to be no melody."

Our Crowded Schools.

In a recent paper, I noticed an article stating about the overcrowding of the schools in the state of New York. Now, as a taxpayer, I wish to state that if the kindergarten of the River Street school were done away with and children under six years of age not admitted, there would be much more room for the children in the other grades. I, for one, have two children going to school in the second grade, neither one goes three hours a day; another in the sixth grade has to walk to the Chestnut Street. I know myself of children going to school that will not be five years old until next June. The school age used to be eight years, now it seems to be any time after a child can walk and talk.

Knee Pan Dislocated.

Beatrice Osterhout of 74 Deitz street, a young student of the Oneonta High school, had the misfortune to fall upon the floor of the Academy street building yesterday morning, dislocating her knee pan. Dr. Cutler was summoned and promptly reduced the dislocation. Friends will be glad to know that her condition is not at all serious.

A VETERAN OF MORRIS.

Orville Edwards Dies Tuesday After Long Illness of Bright's Disease.

Morris, Oct. 13.—Orville Edwards, a veteran of the rebellion, during which he served in the 11th infantry, died Tuesday forenoon of Bright's disease after several months' illness. Porter, of Schenectady, also by a brother, George Edwards, of Gilbertsville. Practically his whole life was spent in Morris.

He was a member of the Universalist church, and the funeral service, which will be held at 2 p. m. on Friday, will be conducted by Rev. F. G. Leonard, pastor of that society. Burial will be in the Hillington cemetery.

'MESOPOT' OIL NOT DEVELOPED

Necessity for Importing Foreign Labor Is a Bar to Investment of Capital.

Mesopotamia is a rich field for oil, but the only wells in operation are a few sunk before the war by the Arabs. Not that the British need the Mesopotamian wells at present; they have more than they can use. But they are not even prospecting for it, nor are they allowing two representatives of a famous oil company of our own to prospect, though the American oil comes in by Abadan and is sold at something less than the Persian oil.

One reason among many why big capitalists are not received here with open arms when they come forward with some big scheme for the country is that they generally begin by saying: "We must import labor."

Now the labor difficulty is serious here. Arabs are not very keen on getting much work out of themselves. The Kurd comes in to work and keep at it. One sees them carrying the most unbelievable burdens. Recently I saw a Kurd carrying a piano on his back, followed by an assistant who was steadying it, but not helping otherwise.

But the Arabs are willing to let the Kurds do it. During the war labor was so scarce that to keep going with their railroads and their irrigation schemes the British had to import Indians—Mud and Radford Warren in the Saturday Evening Post.

Without Reservations.

According to the Fleet Review a man presented himself for enlistment who said that his mother was an American who had married a Frenchman in Italy. He said further that he was born on a ship flying the Spanish colors while she was lying in the English channel, that his parents having died in Sweden when he was five, he was adopted by a German who brought him up in the United States. The man who adopted him was not a naturalized citizen.

"Would you class him as a man without a country?" someone asked the recruiting officer.

"Thunder, no!" was the reply. "To class him as a League of Nations." Boston Transcript.

Improved Household Bell.
Three different signal tones from an electric bell of ordinary appearance, calling the householder to the front, rear, or side door, are now made possible by the ingenious device of an Ohio manufacturer. The two electromagnetic coils of the bell have separate armatures, one of which carries the bell clapper, while the other constitutes a buzzer. Popular Mechanics Magazine.

AT 108, WOMAN TO CAST BALLOT

Mrs. Sophia Orr of Syracuse Looks Forward Eagerly to Next Election Day.

OLDEST VOTER OF HER SEX

Native of Vermont and Has Lived in Wisconsin and Mississippi—She Recently Prosecuted Her Grandson for Theft.

Syracuse, N. Y.—Mrs. Sophia Orr, 108 years old, is eagerly looking forward to casting her first vote for president in November. She probably will be the oldest woman in the country to cast her ballot. She voted for the first time in the majority election last year.

"I voted the Republican ticket," she stated proudly, "and that's why they won."

The aged woman was the daughter of a lawyer, and was born in St. Albans, Vt., 105 years ago, according to her story. From there she moved to Muscoda, Wis., and later to Highgate, Miss., where she was married to Robert W. Orr. She remembers clearly the events of the war, in which her husband served, and has a vivid memory of her entire life down to the present.

Husband in Civil War.

The little old lady likes to talk about her dead husband, who fought for his country back in the sixties. "He did his duty," she said resignedly, "and now he's up in Oakwood cemetery. He gave two arms, two legs and his eyes for his country."

Although in her long lifetime Mrs. Orr never before had to resort to the law for protection, she recently appeared against her grandson, Harvey D. Mullett, whom she charged with stealing $145 from under her pillow.

Mrs. Orr is the oldest woman to figure in court proceedings in the state, probably in the United States.

As sprightly as if only half her age, the aged woman mounted the stand and gave her evidence against her grandson, when Mullett, who has appeared in police court before and is included in the rogues' gallery, demanded an examination.

"Grandma, you know I've always been true to you," said the accused grandson.

"Harvey, you took my money, I saw you," insisted the little old lady, "and what's more you took my copper wash boiler a long time ago."

"I've never forgotten that about Harvey," she stated gravely to the judge. "He took that and $3, and a ring which belonged to my dead husband. I know it was Harvey," she insisted.

Owens Her Own Home.

Mrs. Orr owns the house in which she occupies one apartment alone.

"I was standing on my back porch telling my daughter-in-law how to hang up a blanket to get it dry," she declared to the judge.

"I heard a noise and saw Harvey coming out of my bedroom. When I went in the money was gone."

"He took my copper wash boiler, too," she reiterated, showing that the loss of the utensil was a hard thing to forgive.

The grandson was arraigned after "grandma" had already told her story once, and demanded that she be put on the stand.

"Grandma" had been waiting. She told her story in a clear voice and showed excellent hearing. The only difficulty with her as a witness was her desire to plead with her grandson to return the money.

"Why don't you give it to me, Harvey?" the 108-year-old lady pleaded again and again.

UNDERSEA WIRELESS FOUND

Mallory Fishermen Discover Apparatus Used by Germans During the War.

Mallory.—A complete wireless apparatus which was produced in 20 fathoms of water off Melilla bay, with the mast and work up parts below the surface to a depth of about eight fathoms, has been discovered by a party of Mallory fishermen.

The apparatus, which was subsequently removed by the doctor and authorities for an examination, is of German construction and is complete in every detail.

Undoubtedly something went on regularly during the war with submarines lying in wait for British vessels.

Eat Arsenic With Impunity.

In some parts of Austria, and especially in the little country toward Hungary, there exists the extraordinary custom of eating arsenic, one of the most deadly poisons. There, however, the peasants are so accustomed to its use that they are able to take huge quantities without harm, and they assert that the remarkable beauty of their women folk is entirely due to constant dragging with arsenic.

Lightning Struck Twice.

Lightning strikes twice in the same place, in case of the old saw, for at least twice in the death of Theresa, a woman of a man killed while sheltering under a tree in a hayfield during a thunderstorm. It was stated that the tree, one of a group of five of the same kind, had been a victim of lightning before. In the recent instance the lightning followed the course of the old strike.

And thus through the perfected science of embalming, the undertaker of the present day, supplementing his by removing entirely the lines of pain and suffering, and by restoring the natural color of flesh, does much to rob the ordeal of its heart-rending features.

Home-made Remedy Stops Coughs Quickly

The best cough medicine you ever used. A family supply easily and quickly made. Serves about 27.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for temporary relief it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it. It's safe and good.

Put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle, then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup instead of sugar syrup. It doesn't matter. You make a full pint—a really superb—without costing more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It loosens the inflamed membrane that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Speedy relief for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for healing the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

WHY DID GEN. CANTU RESIGN?

Position of Lower California's Governor Was Strong.

HAD RULED WITH SUCCESS

Appointed by Porfirio Diaz, During Nine Years of Stormy History He Kept His State From Being Involved in Any of the Revolutions That Disrupted Mexico and Then Puzzled Everyone by Quitting.

The sudden demise of a public official in Mexico is such an every day occurrence that the peaceful resignation of Gen. Estaban Cantu, governor of Lower California, was scarcely noticed by Mr. Average American Citizen. Cantu's peaceful passing into private life is not being ignored, however, by shrewd students of international events, writes Paul J. Brindel in the Chicago Daily News.

Any man who can peacefully resign his office in Mexico on his own terms is worthy of American interest. Add the fact that Cantu ruled successfully most of Lower California through the nine stormiest years of Mexico's history, and you have another interesting item. But most interesting of all is the seemingly unanswerable question of "why did Cantu resign?" True, De la Huerta and Obregon had threatened dire things against him, including invasion of Lower California, if he did not. But they were hundreds of miles away, and other attempts had taught Mexican expeditionary forces, from Diaz to Carranza, that only a military expedition of a great power could cross the hundreds of miles of burning sands between Mexico and Mazatlan. Yet Cantu resigned, and with very little dithering, except for certain rights and amnesty for his followers.

Appointee of Porfirio Diaz. Like most things in Mexico, good and bad, Gov. Cantu and his administration dated back to Porfirio Diaz. From 1911, when Diaz appointed him, to the time of his resignation, Cantu defied successfully all efforts to involve Lower California in the mess the rest of Mexico is in. While the Maderos, Huertas, Carranzas, Villias, Angeles and Zapatas each strove to succeed to the crown of Diaz, Cantu stuck to his knitting as governor in his border capital of Mexicali, opposite Calexico, Cal., metropolis of the Imperial Valley.

The best token of his success in refusing to be one of the many "saviors" of Mexico is evidenced by the fact that while good American citizens were being used as rifle targets during the hectic days following Diaz's flight, as far as is known no reputable citizen of the United States ever lost his life or even was molested in Lower California during Cantu's administration.

Cantu's success as an administrator also is shown in that, unlike any other place in Mexico, passengers on the recently completed San Diego and Arizona railroad find it extremely difficult to determine when they are in the United States and when in Lower California, as this newest extension of the Southern Pacific zig-zags its way from Yuma, Ariz., through Mexicali, Calif.

and in Centro in the Imperial valley then back to Mexico again, finally winding up in San Diego, through Tia Juana.

Tia Juana's Rise to Fame. In their anxiety to reach that west coast Mecca of the thirsty—Tia Juana—many Chicagoans en route to the Democratic national convention in San Francisco passed through Mexicali without realizing their proximity to one of the few Latin-American politicians worth meeting. Tia Juana, planned by Cantu to be the Monte Carlo of North America, has had a mushroom growth in the last few months, especially since July 1, 1919.

Two years ago before the completion of the San Diego and Arizona "cut-off," it wasn't even on a railroad map and was practically unknown except to some of the sporting fraternity of San Diego and Los Angeles. Today it and its American sister, Tia Juana, Cal., are supposed to have close to 5,000 permanent inhabitants, not to speak of a daily influx of the thirsty, averaging several thousand per day. Moreover, Tia Juana, Mexico, has more saloons than can be counted on a hot August afternoon, a fair race-track, half a thousand adventures and every variety of gambling game from "black jack" to faro and roulette. No wonder two through Pullmans are operated daily from Chicago to San Diego en route to Tia Juana. Or that the two daily trains from San Diego frequently run in two sections as far as the Mexican border.

Mexico the Last "Oasis." This description of Tia Juana is not given to further advertise the town, but because it is further evidence of the astuteness of this canny Castilian governor. Safe from Mexican invasion by the desert, Cantu realized that under a new administration in the United States there probably would be a relaxation of the demand that the United States purchase Lower California. Every few months for the last decade or more, this agitation has been resumed, usually following a story of a Japanese naval base having been "discovered" along Magdalena or Turkey bay. Americans long have cast an envious eye on this strip of territory jutting out into the Pacific. In 1915 seven men were indicted by a federal grand jury in Los Angeles for an alleged plot to invade Lower California, overthrow Cantu, take possession of the territory and seek annexation to the United States.

With Americans from a dozen western states flocking to Tia Juana for a thrill they no longer can get at home, Cantu realized the value of such a Monte Carlo in discouraging unfavorable action toward Mexican ownership. His American barenders never lost a chance to point out that with part of Canada already dry, Mexico is the only hope of the thirsty in the west.

Land of Big Game and Myths. While few Americans visited Lower California before the recent improvement in rail transportation, fewer yet ever have been to the south of Mexicali, where great deserts stretch for hundreds of miles. Indeed Lower California never has been subjected by any race as far as history shows. There are a few coast towns in the west, on the Pacific and in the east, along the Gulf of California, with large Mexican and Indian populations, but the climate is too hot for permanent settlement by whites. Hundreds of American slackers and deserters who filtered across the border during the war tried it, but most of them, after a few weeks, preferred army court-martial to the heat.

The cooler mountains of the interior are almost an unexplored wilderness inhabited by big game and wilder myths. One legend which Rex Beach, the novelist, tried to trace down last winter, is that giant women once inhabited the peninsula—a story which Cortez seems to have believed also and for which American archaeologists are finding some basis for truth. They have found portions of skeletons showing the existence of a race over eleven feet tall.

Race of Giant Cannibals. Of even greater interest to cannibals seeking adventure back yard, are the remnants of the race of giant Indians, who were repulsed successfully for four centuries all attempts to civilize them. They wear pelican skins, hunt with primitive bows and arrows and stone, fight with their teeth and constantly are on the lookout for a Caucasian, addition to their menu. In the 400 years since their discovery by the Spanish, only one white man has visited them and come away to tell the tale. He somehow managed to win their friendship by presents of beads and clothing.

Such is the territory over which this 39-year-old Mexican governor ruled so successfully for nine years—a long time to rule in Mexico. With 4,000 troops rated "the best paid in the world," receiving their $150 per diem each evening in American gold, his reign could have been a long one, yet he chose to resign. No wonder shrewd international politicians are asking why.

COSTLY DINNER BY VILLA

Karl Heigelin Paid $5,000 to Be His Guest at "Invitation Affair."

It cost Karl Heigelin, formerly a resident of Atchison, $5,000 to be a "dinner guest" of Francisco Villa, the Mexican ex-bandit leader, according to a letter received from Mr. Heigelin, who is president of a brewery company at Salinas, Coahuila, Mexico, by relatives. At the time of Heigelin's experience, reports of the "kidnaping" were carried in press dispatches. In his letter the brewer says it was really an "invitation affair" and probably was Villa's last bandit act, as the following day he surrendered to the federal forces.

After a corps of Villa's men had raided the brewery and had been appeased by a diplomatic employee, who gave the bandits 20 pesos each, Heigelin says he was informed of Villa's invitation to dinner. They virtually placed the brewer under arrest and accompanied him to Villa's headquarters, where he dined with the bandit chieftain. Villa carried the role of a most hospitable host, according to Heigelin's letter, then in conclusion informed his guest that he must write a check for 10,000 pesos, which Heigelin did.

The following day Heigelin requested Villa to return some mules which the bandits had driven away from the brewery. He complied with the request.

The Oscar II, Scandinavian-American line, docked at Hoboken the other day with an extra passenger aboard.

When off the Irish coast the ship's physician, Dr. Axel Trolle, informed Capt. A. J. Schmidt that a woman in the stowage expected the advent of a child on the trip and was anxious that the child be born in America.

The captain gave orders for full speed ahead, with the result that the ship had just come inside the three-mile limit when an infant son was born to Mrs. Clara Danielson of Farstad, Denmark.

Japan's New Wireless Station.

The sending plant of Japan's new high-power wireless station is expected to be opened in October. It is believed radio transmission half way around the world will be possible by the apparatus. The receiving portion of the set has been successfully operating since March and receives press messages direct from Germany and picks up messages sent from Nauen to Buenos Aires. It has been announced that in connection with the plant wireless telephones will be installed that will enable merchant ships to keep in communication with the land stations.

THE AMERICAN RED CROSS IN PEACE TIME

Teaching First Aid

Every person mentally and physically able to do so should take the American Red Cross instruction in First Aid Treatment. It's a life-saver and a pain-saver on the farm, in the factory, on the street, at the office, in the home, wherever accidents may occur. Here's a young wife who ineptly wielded a can-opener and received an ugly gash across her wrist from the jagged can lid. Mother was there, however, with the First Aid kit and Red Cross instruction, and probably prevented a case of blood poisoning by giving prompt and proper treatment before the doctor arrived.

ONEONTA CHAPTER D. A. R.

Holds October Meeting With Mrs. I. H. Rowe—Fine Program Presented.

The October meeting of Oneonta chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was held yesterday afternoon with Mrs. I. H. Rowe on Elm street. The hostesses for the day were Mrs. Rowe, Mrs. S. R. Barnes and Mrs. S. H. Potter.

The program included interesting reports of the state convention recently held at Saratoga, by Mrs. E. J. Gurney, Mrs. D. Jennings and Mrs. H. S. Rowe. The general theme of the Saratoga conference was "Americanism—Home and Country and Home and Order." In connection with the report literary and musical program of much merit was given under direction of Mrs. Florence Ford Collins. The general theme was "Autumn," and in addition to ancient legends and more recent poems from well-known American authors, there was a piano solo by Mrs. Mills, vocal solos by Prof. Perry, S. S. Kilkenny and Miss Lauren and a quartet, "Landing of the Pilgrims," by Mrs. Ford, Miss Lauren, and Messrs. Perry and Kilkenny.

JOHNSON TAKES JOY RIDE

Colored Porter at Reynolds's Barber Shop Damages Seven Passenger Car Owned by LeVern Hotchkiss—Runs Over Eight Foot Wall—No One Injured.

Albert Johnson, the colored porter at Reynolds's barber shop, in the Oneonta hotel, while joy riding on the South Side road yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock, with the seven passenger Mitchell car owned by LeVern Hotchkiss, met with an unfortunate accident. He ran the car over the eight foot wall on the West side of the road just this side of the gasoline station. He was the only occupant and was not seriously injured.

Early in the afternoon Mr. Hotchkiss engaged Johnson to change a tire for him as he had often done before. After changing the tire Johnson thought he would take a ride and chose the South Side road. When about a mile outside the city he ran out of gasoline and leaving the car along the roadside he walked back to the gasoline station and bought one quart. On his return to the city he decided that he would stop and fill the tank, and as there was a number of cars at the station he drove past it and was planning to turn around. In his attempt to turn about 15 feet this side of the station he discovered that he would be unable to make it without using the reverse, and stopped, but too late to save the right front wheel from going over the wall. He at once received assistance, and while trying to back up, the brakes gave away, and the front of the car went over the wall, and stopped with only the rear wheels in the road. Johnson was not seriously hurt, receiving only a slight cut on the hand.

Brannaman's garage was at once notified and after a couple of hours work the car was pulled into the road and taken to the garage. It is believed that about $200 damage was done.

MADE MOST OF GOOD WEATHER.

Farmers Have Been Busy Gathering a Plentiful Harvest.

Threshing, plowing, potato digging and fruit picking kept the farmers of the state busy during the week, according to the summary of weather and crop conditions in New York for the week ending October 12, sent out by the Ithaca office of the weather bureau.

The weather of the week, further, was very favorable for all farm activities. There was practically no precipitation, and sunshine abundant. Frost was general at the first of the week, followed by warmer weather at the close.

This is the last of the weekly summaries to be issued until next spring, unless unusual conditions indicate the need of a special report. A monthly report, however, will be prepared by the Ithaca bureau.

LIGHTNIN' THIS EVENING.

John Golden's Famous Comedy Success to Appear at Oneonta Theatre.

In the leading of laughs and heart throbs, "Lightnin'" the famous comedy success which John Golden will present at the Oneonta theatre tonight, can be compared only with Mr. Golden's earlier success, "Turn to the Right," which was written by the same author, Winchell Smith. However, "Lightnin'" record of two years on Broadway—the longest in history—doubles that of "Turn to the Right." Milton Noble, one of the most eminent of American character actors, emerged from 14 years' retirement to appear in the title role of the play in New York this summer, and he heads the company to be seen here. The company is appearing in only a few cities en route to Chicago.

A Reno divorce court and a hotel, particularly calculated to meet the needs of would-be divorcees, are prominent features of the play, as are a captured judge and a vaudeville actress who seeks freedom from matrimonial bonds. She couldn't find time to start the proceedings until she sprained her ankle, for the reason, as she proudly announces, that she was always "booked solid" and therefore on the jump. In granting her decree, the judge casts an eye to his own future.

The character of "Lightnin'" Bill Jones, thus preposterously nicknamed because he never moves fast, is as lovable as "Rip Van Winkle" and just as fond of his flask and his story.

MACCABEE MEETING.

Large Class Initiated—About 300 Present at Services.

The first meeting of the Susquehanna Valley Maccabee association was held last evening in the Municipal building at 8 o'clock. There were about 300 present at the initiation services and about 200 were seated at the banquet served by the Lady Maccabees following the initiation services. Among the tents which were represented were Edmeston, Stamford, Cobleskill, Arkville, Binghamton, Maryland, Cooperstown, Endicott, Unadilla, Worcester, South Valley, Davenport and Milford. Following the initiation services speeches were made by the following: Great Commander John Volk, Great Lieutenant Commander D. J. Coakley, Great Trustee Frank Hodge, and District Managers E. J. Smith, R. M. Tucker and E. N. Valentine. There was a large class of candidates present for initiation. After the services at the Municipal building all attended the banquet which was served in Odd Fellows' hall.

Today there will be three sessions which will be held in the B. of R. T. hall. The morning session will be held at 9 o'clock, which will be on the school of instruction. The afternoon session will be a business meeting at 2 o'clock. There will be a large smoker in the evening with a number of speakers. It is urged that all members of the Maccabees attend the three sessions today.

Cooking Class at Woman's Club.

A meeting of the Cooking class of the Woman's club will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the club rooms on Chestnut street. Miss Nina V. Snort, executive secretary of the County Tuberculosis committee, will conduct the demonstration, her subject being "Bread, Both Yeast and Quick." Miss Short is a graduate of Purdue university and during the war was home demonstration agent of Wayne county, Ind. Last year she was manager of Red Cross holiday house in Washington, D. C. She has had special nutritional work and is highly recommended. Non-members can attend by paying 25 cents admission.

This will be the first of a series of six demonstration to be given by Miss Short. The second will be held on October 27th.

A Pleasant House Picnic.

A most delightful house picnic was given yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Munson TenBroeck, 23 High street, by the ladies of Mrs. C. J. Westcott's Sunday school class in honor of their teacher. There were about 25 present and the afternoon was spent in a social way, a delicious dinner being served at 4:30 o'clock. A notable feature, and a very pleasant one for the recipient, was the presentation of a fine gold pencil to Mrs. Westcott by the members of the class.

W. C. T. U. Meeting.

At the W. C. T. U. meeting, held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Louis Williams, 57 Maple street, the plans were made for the state convention which is to be held in Syracuse from Oct. 21 to 25 inclusive. Other business was discussed, after which the meeting adjourned.
